Better every day since 1927

We have been pursuing our passion since 1927. It spurs us on in our quest for perfect flavour every day. Even when we think that we have achieved it, we know that the next day we will be determined to reach ever greater heights. Our passion takes us to faraway lands in search of the most promising plantations and crops. It keeps us enthralled when we are trying out fragrant aromas and blends.

We have transformed our ambition into tireless research and our work into a mission: to take the very best coffee into your local cafés, favourite restaurants and household pantries. Along with our coffee, we have cultivated know-how that is built not only on family traditions but also on innovation, studies and experiments. In the world of coffee, we are lucky enough to be able to count on exceptional experience, as well as expertise with solid roots that fuels our drive for excellence. Coffee is part of an everyday ritual with a key social role. If it gets better every day, it will help to bring about improvements in our relationships, our desire to spend time together, and our appreciation of the good things in life.

The joys of research

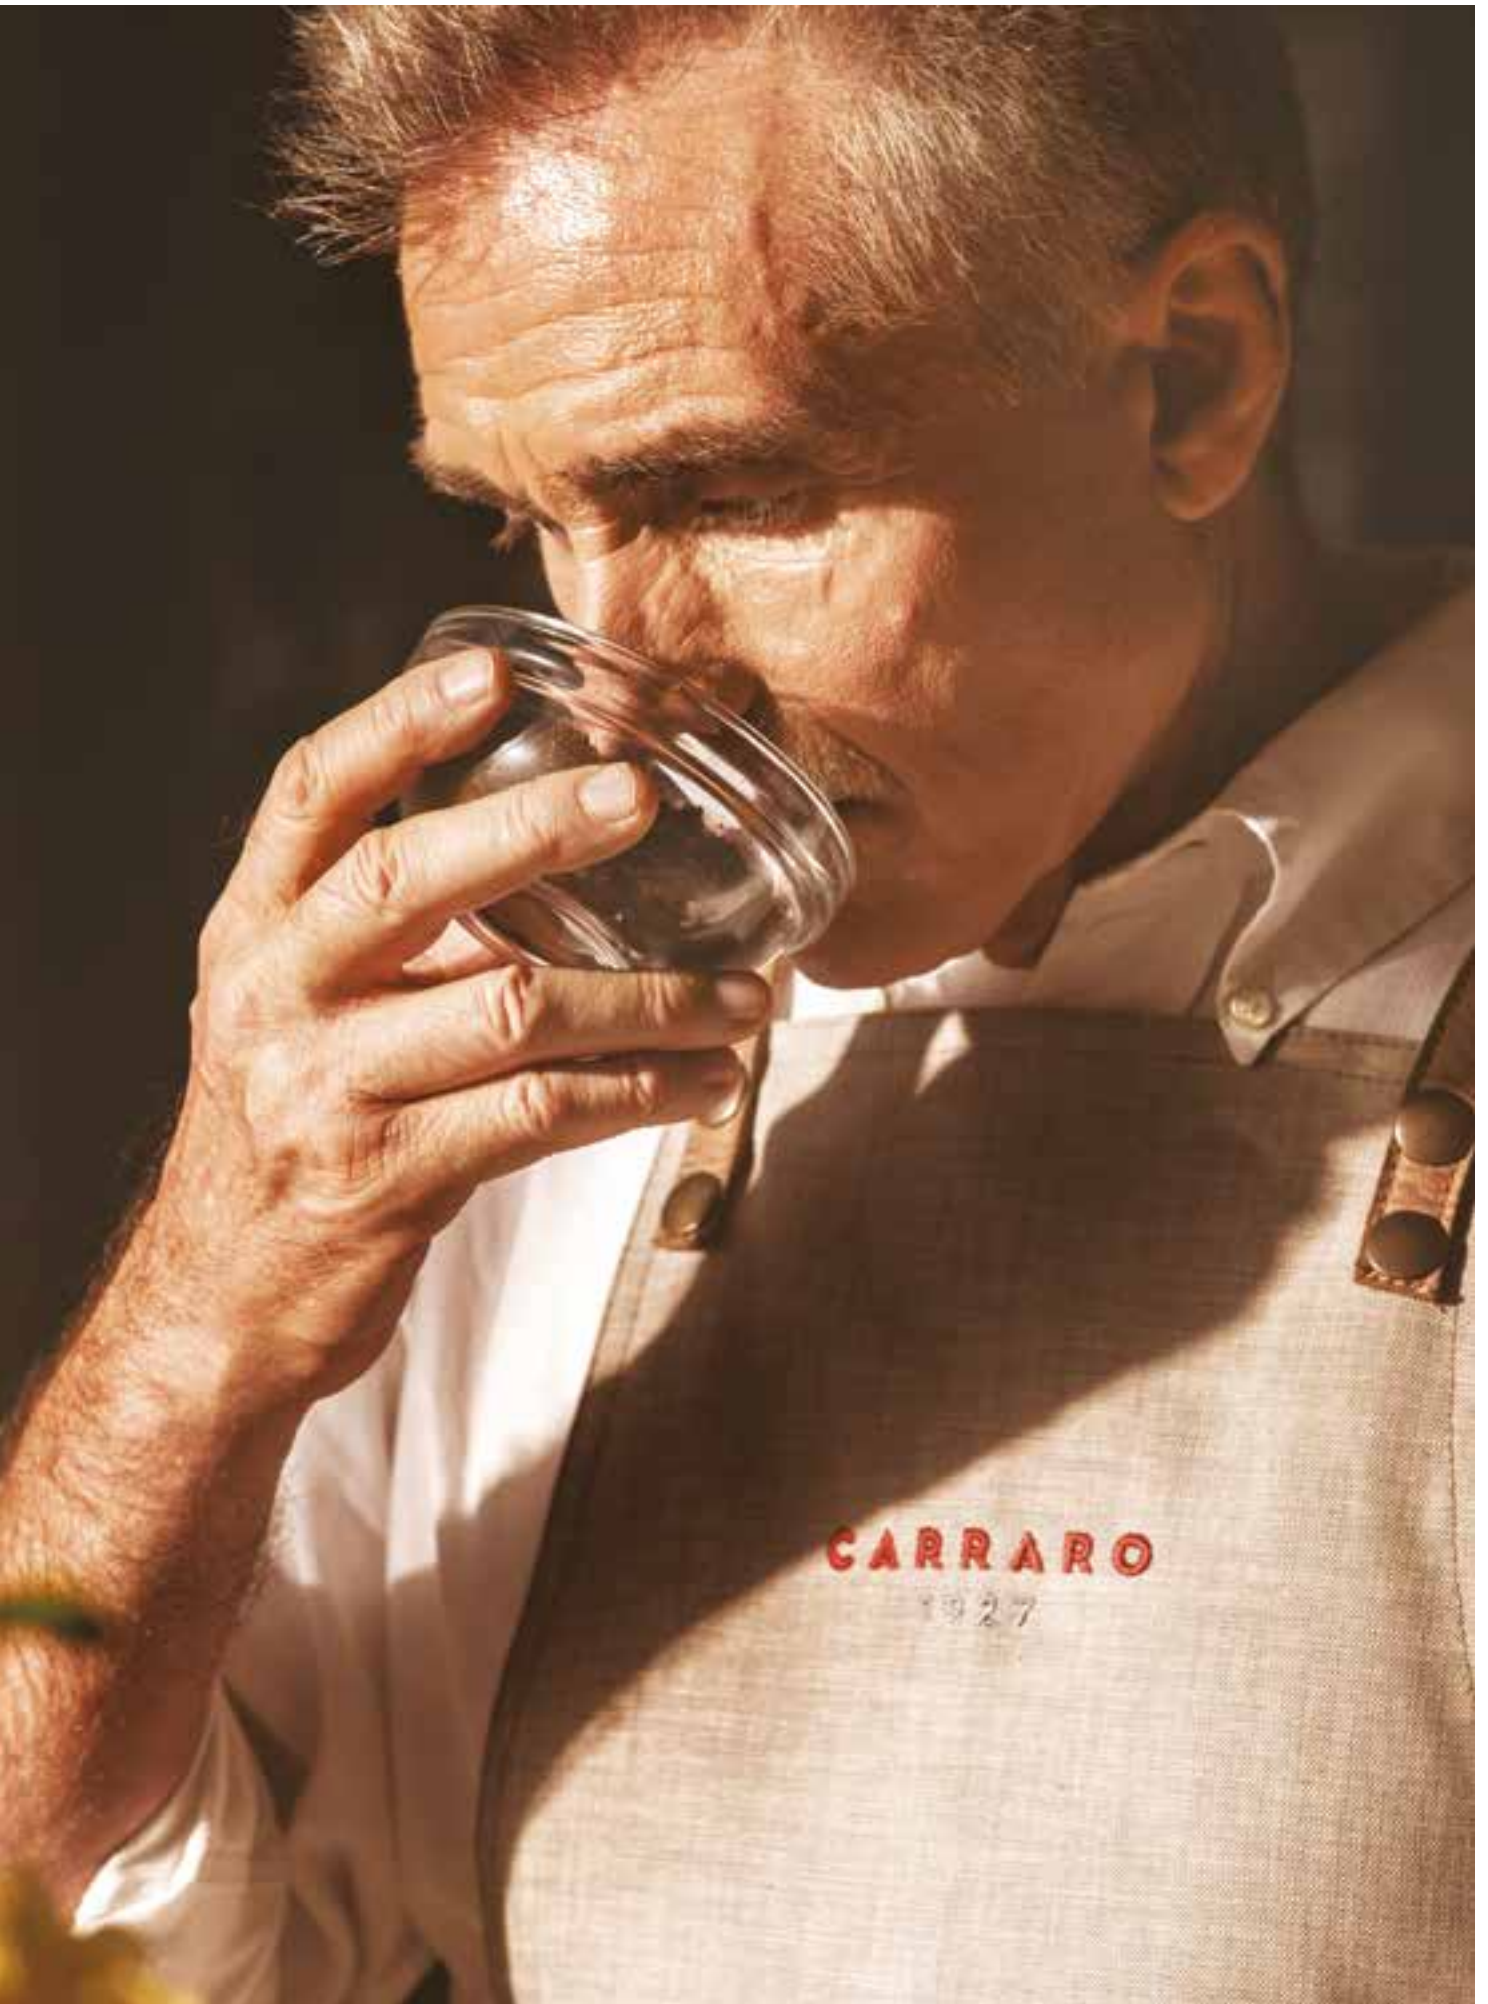

Every cup of coffee takes you on a journey around the world and deep into the breathtaking diversity of nature, because its flavour changes with each season and from one harvest to the next. That is why we travel thousands of miles in search of the best harvests, as we strive to offer consistently exceptional quality. It is what we have been doing every day for more than 90 years.

"I've spent my life tasting, smelling and surrounding myself with natural produce, food and flowers. I endeavour to encapsulate the essence of fragrances and flavours, creating a balance to offer to everyone. I never stop seeking perfection in the blends that I create."

Giuseppe Zanandrea

President of Caffè Carraro SpA

Coffee's hidden secret

Our industry has an artisan essence.

90 years of experience have taught us to recognize all of the different nuances of coffee, which we seek out in remote plantations and pristine lands, meticulously selecting crops and keeping a close eye on the quality of the raw materials. We have learned the art of roasting, when all of the sensory properties in green coffee beans are unleashed. Trusting the taste of master roasters, with the aid of modern technological procedures, we have developed a slow cycle for optimum caramelization of sugars and aroma formation. The blending process takes place straight afterwards: honing the flavour with daily checks and tastings, we choose the ideal combination of the finest Arabica and Robusta beans. From the production process to staff training and support for small plantations, we fill every cup with 90 years of ceaseless research in order to guarantee certified quality and fresh delights every time.

LOVE COFFEE

You can find all of the goodness of nature in our coffee.
We are dedicated to preserving it for future generations.

Every coffee bean is a gift from nature. This is at the forefront of our minds when we choose to work in harmony with the traditions of local people from our coffee's countries of origin. Similar thoughts are behind our decisions to use completely biodegradable materials for compostable capsules or paper cups and packaging, as we try to work towards a 100% sustainable future. This helps to keep the quality of our coffee consistently high in accordance with the strictest production standards, as underlined by numerous forms of international certification. Our quality stems from our daily dedication to making a difference.

An aerial photograph of a terraced tea plantation at sunset. The rows of tea bushes are illuminated by the warm, golden light of the setting sun, creating a rhythmic pattern across the landscape. In the foreground, a calm body of water reflects the sky and the plantation. The background shows rolling hills and distant mountains under a hazy, orange-tinted sky. The text "LOVE NATURE" is overlaid in a large, bold, sans-serif font, centered horizontally and slightly below the middle of the image. On the left side, there are three overlapping, semi-circular graphic elements in shades of brown and gold, partially obscuring the landscape.

LOVE NATURE

The quest for excellence

In order to brew a truly outstanding cup of coffee, you need to start far away and travel to plantations in lands that are still untarnished. You need to seek out and analyse the best seasonal harvests from more than 20 countries of origin and blend over 30 different selected types of coffee. Every day we examine coffee beans that are still green and we roast, blend and taste coffee so that we can offer the very best to all those who enjoy it after us. We find it immensely satisfying to harness and bring out the best of a product that is already perfect.

It is our way of showing our gratitude to nature and all of the plantation workers in the countries of origin.

It is how we find a fresh sense of harmony with the world.

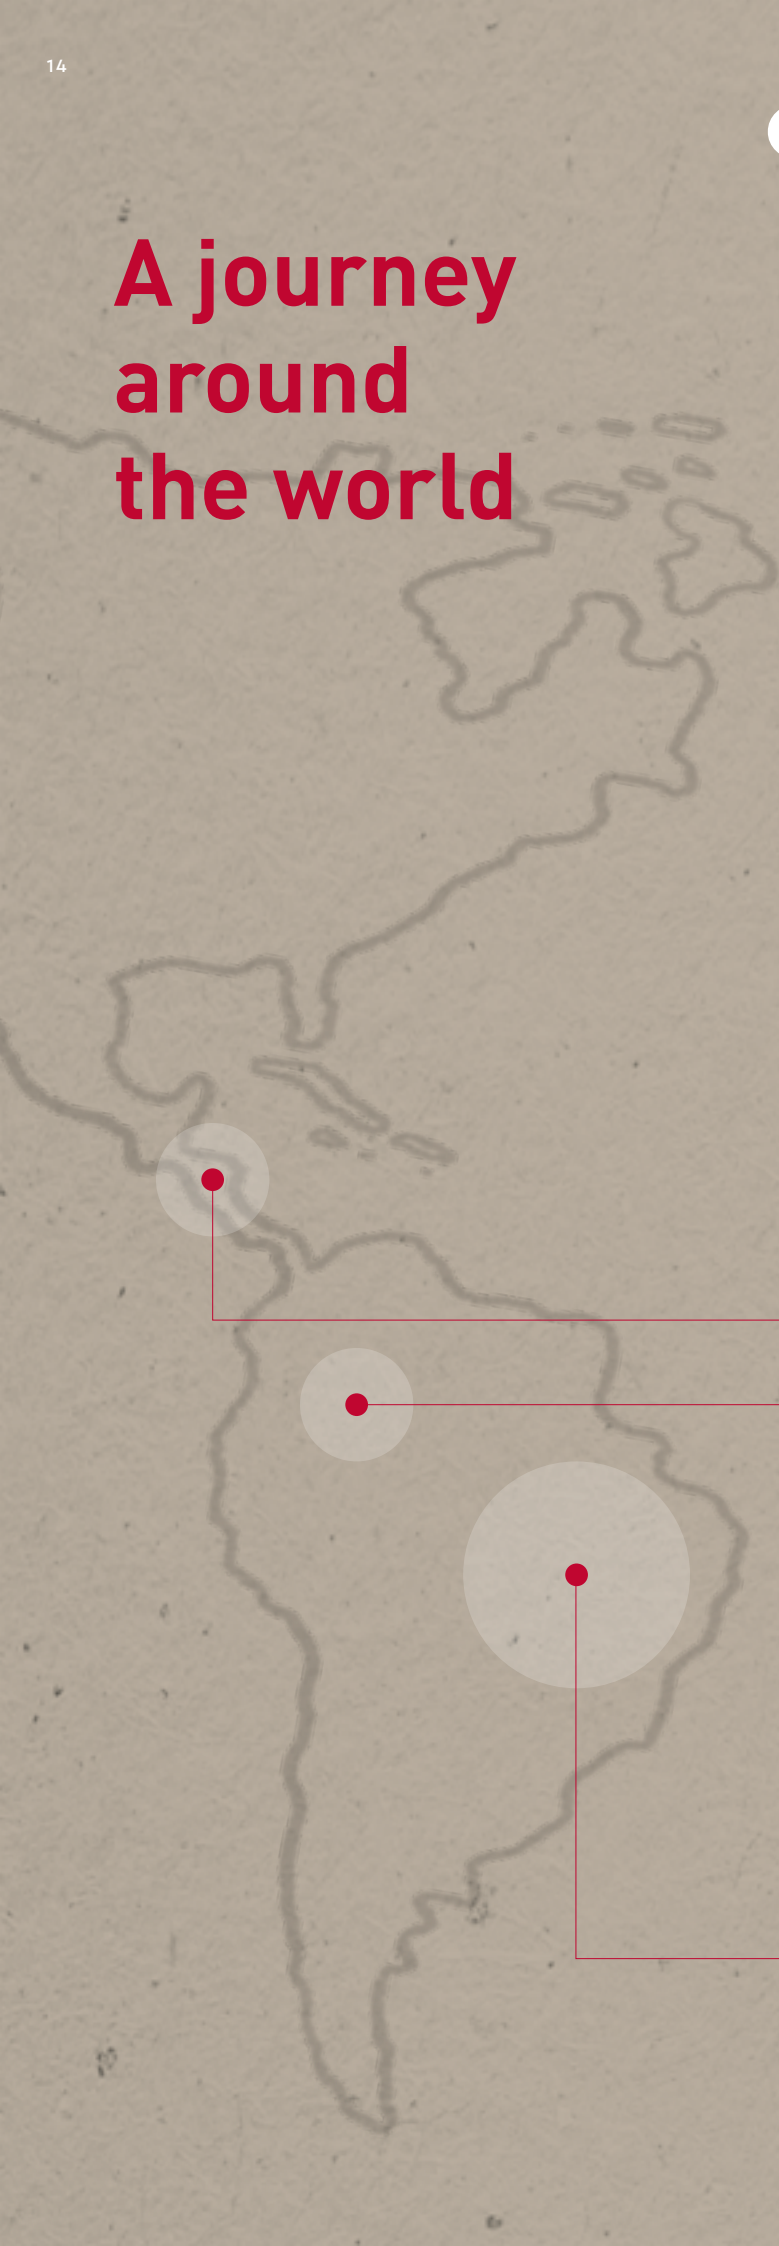

CARING ABOUT QUALITY MEANS CARING ABOUT THE ENVIRONMENT

In order to offer exceptional quality, it is necessary to preserve the environment where the raw materials are found. Therefore, we endeavour to minimize the environmental impact of our products and choose biodegradable, eco-friendly materials that are 100% recyclable.

A journey around the world

Mexico

Mexico is famous for the washed Arabica coffee that it makes for the North American and European markets, but there is also a distinctive type of Robusta that is grown in a very small part of the country. The techniques used in the initial wet processing are the same as those for Arabica coffee. The resulting coffee is exceptionally sweet, with none of the hardness and woodiness typically found in African and Asian Robusta. In addition, there is an interesting chocolate aftertaste.

El Salvador

This Strictly High Grown coffee comes from locations at more than 1,500 metres above sea level, in the Santa Ana area near the border with Guatemala. Wet processed and selected by hand, it is a beautiful green/dark bluish colour.

Honduras

Our coffee from Honduras has unique sensory qualities thanks to long-established traditions, painstaking selection and the favourable climate conditions in the areas near the border with Guatemala, at more than 1,200 metres above sea level. The aromatic bouquet of the coffee is packed with floral notes that have earned it the name "La Flor", which means "The Flower".

Guatemala

The finest Guatemalan coffee is grown in the Antigua region, at between 1,600 and 2,000 metres above sea level. The small local producers still use traditional systems not only for growing the plants but also when harvesting and processing the coffee cherries. The coffee made from the beans is truly outstanding, with floral aromas in the cup that are occasionally complemented by hints of mountain pastures.

Costa Rica

This coffee is grown at approximately 1,500 metres above sea level in the canton of Tarrazu, where the soil and climate conditions are ideal. Following wet processing, it is first selected electronically and then by hand. In the cup, it has a clean-cut, sweet and delicately acidulous flavour.

Colombia

After Brazil, the second biggest producer of Arabica coffee in the world is Colombia, which is home to a sweeter variety that is widely called "Suave". The "Supremo" coffee from the Medellín area has large, flat beans which are carefully selected to ensure that they have uniform properties.

Brazil

Our Brazilian coffee comes from the Alta Mogiana area in the State of Sao Paulo (approximately 600 metres above sea level) and the Cerrado area in the State of Minas Gerais (approximately 1,000 metres above sea level). It is classified as "Specialty Strictly Soft" coffee thanks to the care with which it is grown, harvested and processed.

Kenya

Our Kenyan coffee is grown on mountain slopes at approximately 2,000 metres above sea level, where there is a consistently mild climate. It is harvested by hand over the course of a number of stages and then undergoes wet processing. In the cup it presents a fruity, rich and pervasive aroma. Although it is sweet and fragrant, it is full bodied and has a distinctively acidic touch.

Rwanda

Our coffee from Rwanda grows on uplands at approximately 1,700 metres above sea level, near Lake Kivu. The combination of volcanic soil and a hot, humid climate provides excellent growing conditions for our Bourbon coffee beans (an Arabica variety). The coffee is one of the most prized kinds in the world. It is astonishingly aromatic and delightfully acidic in the cup, with a moderate caffeine content.

Ethiopia

Our coffee is grown in volcanic soil in southern areas between 1,300 and 2,100 metres above sea level, where there are clear climatic differences between the rainy season and the dry season. It is the most fragrant coffee in the world, with distinctive jasmine and rose petal notes. In the cup it is very sweet, with a medium, liqueur-like body and a delightfully leisurely aftertaste.

India

After the harvest, our Indian coffee goes through two processing stages: first it is exposed to the wet monsoon winds for weeks, then it is lightly smoked. In the cup it calls to mind typical Oriental aromas, with hints of smoked herbs that sometimes have a salty touch. Although the distinctive, unmistakably spicy flavour makes a big impact, it leaves the palate clean.
